

ABOUT THE COURSE

The Golf Club at Briar's Creek is a private golf retreat located just outside of Charleston, SC, along the scrolling landscape of Johns Island and developed by architect Rees Jones, architect to more than a dozen PGA Championship venues. Per the Club's website, "An integral part of the Briar's Creek experience is the way golf and the natural environment complement each other. There is no shortage of water, marshes, wetlands and wildlife, along with the occasional bunker, rough, and gently rolling, but quick putting surface. Set on more than 800 acres on scenic Johns Island, this private retreat provides an unhurried lifestyle and world-class golf with no tee times. Precisely designed and skillfully maintained, the Rees Jones masterpiece embraces the rich, low country landscape and vegetation of Johns Island and the Kiawah River. Multiple tee boxes offer dramatic shots around, across and along unspoiled marsh and riverside vistas, creating a spirited, scenic challenge for golfers of every level."
